

June 15, 2026 — Text Thread With the Trustee (Father)

Grouped by speaker for readability.

Parties. Justin = beneficiary; Abe = father / trustee (Dr. Abraham Horn); the mother (Lena) was present in the group thread but sent no message. Note: the building's management company is referred to generically; one passage copied in from a separate email was omitted; message wording is otherwise as written.

1. The one-email request · approx. 5:53–6:38 PM

Abe 5:53 PM

“No argument. You’re moving your stuff to Heid?”

Justin

“!! Did you get the balcony room???”

Abe

“I paid the bill. I didn’t question him about the room assuming you took care of it.”

“I have your auto registration and a letter from family health. What do you want me to do with them?”

Justin

“One thing at time. No deflections.”

“No you said it depends on the cost”

“And never gave me an answer”

Abe 5:57 PM

“So what room did you get? I didn’t ask and paid for it”

Justin

“Email my building’s management company and tell them movers are arriving tomorrow at 12noon and need to reserve the elevator.”

My building’s management company replied by email: “Unfortunately, the elevator is reserved tomorrow between 10:30am–2pm for another resident. Would you like us to schedule your move for 2:30pm tomorrow 6/16/2026?”

Abe

“Is there an answer to this?”

Justin

“Did you ask about a room at the Heid with a balcony?”

“I’m sure you did not... Now you’re reading the email? I’m sure your next response is an argument”

Abe

“I didn’t know you were even talks about resi. Blame = self-responsibility. It’s your responsibility to get the info for your residence.”

Justin

“I asked you to extend and ask for a room with balcony.”

“You didn’t do that... and just said depends on the costs”

Abe

“I’m not your secretary or real estate agent. I take care of my own responsibilities. You should do the same. Your question didn’t indicate that was for resi.”

Justin

“Yes I was very specific. Extend stay. Ask for a room with balcony. Sent you his info.”

“You just decided to not do the full ask. And now blame it on me?”

“I said just contact Mr Christ and ask about it. And that anything else is defiant and oppositional. And what did you do? You responded with defiance and opposition”

Abe

“The normal thing to do after I told you it depends on cost would’ve been to find out the cost and let me know. Like I said I’m not your secretary or your personal assistant. You need to take some responsibility for yourself. You send 40,000 texts and then you expect me to read every word carefully. I must admit that I thought the initial request for a balcony was at the apartment you were moving to so if you want to move to a unit with the balcony find out the cost, let me know what a text and then I’ll contact him to pay it.”

Justin

“I just texted today it’s simple... contact mr Christ and ask. Instead you give me a lot of bullshit.”

“A simple ask... like when I simply asked for the trust accounting in full”

Abe

“You can do that”

Justin

“You remain defiant and oppositional. No I can’t. The amount of time you spent arguing you could’ve email him already”

2. Transactional vs. unconditional — and the diagnosis

---

Abe

“What you’re not appreciating is that you’re asking me to do something for you and I am not asking you to do something for me.”

Justin

“Like a transaction? Everything is transactional with you? Conditional?”

“I thought love was unconditional. Not transactional. But you do you try to make it that way”

“I just don’t see how asking you to send him one email is grounds for all the bs you just spent on negating it... ultimately to express your dissatisfaction about not benefiting from the very simple ask ... again”

“I said oppositional and defiant. That is very true. These texts show it”

“You’re one of the et al’s ... so these chats continue to build the record against yourself as you try to manipulate me more.”

Abe

“That was Stern’s first diagnosis of you was oppositional defiance disorder”

Justin

“Yes and it was wrong... you are. These messages prove that 100%”

“And having to deal with you at ages 1–14 and beyond while you act like this to me in private, but not publicly...”

“Because you use DARVO, gaslighting, move the goal post.... Is the the truth now, just as it was then. That’s why I used those words to describe your behavior now... isn’t it?”

3. “I asked for one thing” — love, the trust, and Lena · approx. 9:12–9:30 PM

Justin

“I asked for one thing... contact Mr Christ and check about a room with a balcony to be able to clean contaminated stuff... And instead of that, you just gave me a hard time.”

“I don’t owe you anything for being alive.”

“Two way street... means transactional, conditional... And that’s not love. That’s bullshit.”

“You use the trust to try and benefit yourself thinking ‘fair’. That’s unfair. Something that benefits me, doesn’t need to also benefit you. But you believe that. And always have”

“So, you’re not abusive? Yet you also believe things need to be transactional to be ‘acceptable’. Love is unconditional. No conditions. So from you I don’t get love. I only get from you... abuse.”

“I didn’t choose to be born. You both decided that. And therein, is the issue you don’t see. You made that choice without me. And for that choice, I don’t owe you anything”

“You’re abusive. Lena isn’t a mother I can celebrate on Mother’s Day because she allows this shit with you.”

“When she demands, you always accept. Never a question when she demands. Because losing her to your antics is the last thing you want. That’s why you demonize me to her to make her think you’re not that bad”

“She could leave this chat but doesn’t. And that’s why it’s worse. Abe can’t control himself. Lena can force Abe to act. She just chooses not to.”

“As once she realizes, if ever, you’re not ‘normal’... she has to decide to step up for her son and stop protecting her husband that causes harm to her son.”

“And I wish I was wrong... but this is what it is. Not my choice. Yours.”

4. “Self-responsibility” / the email loop · approx. 9:30–9:40 PM

Abe 9:30 PM

“I will work with you, but you need to take some self-responsibility. Finding out the cost of your request is your responsibility to help yourself. You are very arrogant and entitled. You’re too old for me to have to wipe your ass.”

Justin

“I made a simple ask for you to email him and ask him. Just like the simple ask of asking for the actual accounting, in full. That’s something I am entitled to”

“But you won’t discuss that... But suggest wiping my ass for asking a simple request... you’re defiant, opposed, and blame me (DARVO).”

“You’ve spent more time arguing about emailing him and asking then it would take you to just email him. Every text to me to ‘argue’... was the email itself that you call wiping my ass”

“If I ask, you’ll say no, as always... Moving the goal post. I just asked you to ask... I could draft the email myself and cc you on it. What’s the fucking difference?”

Abe

“Bad assumption”

Justin

“Another text. How many now? To argue? Where you could’ve emailed him?”

5. The accounting, the trust documents, and “Plan B” · approx. 10:03–10:17 PM

---

Justin

“Won’t send the accounting... illegal. You want me to pay for lawyers to get it? Like with the trust documents?”

“12 texts from you arguing one email to Mr Christ. It would require you to speak or email with him anyway ... regardless of what he tells me.”

“Having to deal with YOU my entire life is the biggest problem of MY life ... Nothing comes close to it. [Edited]”

“Even my building’s management company wasn’t as bad as you’ve been today to deal with. So I’ll move what I can into storage ... Rehome the cats ... And live outside for the rest of my days. That’s perfectly fine for me.”

“You said the building’s management company isn’t negotiable. You were wrong. Standing up for what’s right is hard to negotiate against... if it’s right, it’s right. They were reasonable as it was presented. You are not. Were not. Still not.”

6. “You bring up Dr Stern?” · approx. 10:15–10:17 PM

Justin

“You mentioned Dr ... from age 13 ... ? And in this same chat, you’re trying to make it appear that’s actually true. And in doing so, you proved the opposite.”

“So you acknowledge this issues you caused me go back to age 13”

“To be defiant against a criminal... To be opposed to your crazy making... Isn’t an issue with me. That’s an issue with you. And you’ll never change. That’s clear. So I say words like defiant and oppositional... You suggest a diagnosis from age 13...”

“Perfect. As you proved that was wrong in this chat with your 12 texts to by defiant and oppositional and also... DARVO. Deny and reverse victim and offender”

“Like you did when I was young. Like smacking Jennifer in the face. Like not giving me the trust documents. Like not giving me the accounting. Like not emailing Christ and blaming me for it...”

“While I also handled things with my building’s management company and can barely walk but went to cvs ... asking you to do one thing that you’d need to speak with him about anyway. You bring up Dr Stern?”
